

Solomon Schechter Day School of Greater Hartford

Schechter Shavua

Learning is happening inside and outside the classrooms. Students take initiative to bring new activities to the school; Middle School students help bring the US Constitution to life for Gesher; students take the lessons of the chagim to heart. Chag Sukkot Sameach!

#SchechterPride in...

Talia Leshem and Cooper Govoni-Raich, who call themselves the Drama Llamas. These seventh graders chose that name and emailed Head of School Andrea Kasper this summer, asking if they could lead and direct a drama club at school and put on a musical. Along with classmates, they cleaned the stage. Then they sought out faculty mentors, held a meeting and auditions, and have begun the rehearsal process. These two young women have emerged in leadership; they are focused, responsible, and above all else, driven to contribute to their community. Yasher Kochechen!

U.S. Constitution comes to Life for Gesher and Bogrim

On Monday, the students of Bogrim participated in a Reader's Theater in honor of Constitution Day. Demonstrating that the Constitution of the United States is a living, breathing document, the students performed a choral reading of the Preamble to the Constitution for the Gesher class and staff members. In this reading, students interspersed explanations geared to make both the performers and audience think deeply about each of the ideals: What has it looked like? What does it look like today? What could it look like? This powerful performance touched the minds and hearts of all in attendance, leaving us all proud of our country as well as wondering how we can work toward making this a more “perfect union.”
