#SchechterPride in...

Evan, brand new to Schechter this year, who has jumped into Rimonim with both feet! Having arrived with no Hebrew, he can now write the Hebrew alphabet in both print and script, and he is an active participant in both Chumash and chaggim lessons. He is so excited to own his first siddur! Evan enjoys learning math with Geshur students and participating in the STEM afterschool program. Evan is very friendly and is already beloved by his classmates.

A BIG Schechter welcome to Evan and his family!

Repurposing Pallettes into Imaginative Designs

Collaboration is in the air! During the next few Fridays, students from HHNE will join Rogow Middle School students to dismantle 30 donated wooden pallets and then repurpose them into tables, benches, a lemonade stand, a shield, and a tent... all according to design plans created by Schechter students.

With guidance from science teacher Bobbi Woodbury, students brainstormed and sketched their ideas, then created small-scale models before beginning the building process. Bobbi, Coach Schulz, and HHNE teacher Zach Towne supervised the students' use of donated MakerSpace tools such as crow bars, hammers, drills and saws. We were thrilled to have Schechter grads Jack Resnick and Harry Gold among the other HHNE mentors! We will continue to follow the students' progress as their amazing collaborative projects come to fruition.

Thanks to Broadridge printing company in South Windsor for donating the pallets!

Highlight of the Week

Shorashim takes advantage of the beautiful day and go outside to sing and read books in Hebrew with Andrea!
